THE INITIATIVE.

Four hundred Shelby county farmers met at Shelbyville and took preliminary steps looking to the organization of the entire white Burley district and pooling of the tobacco crop in order to combat the competition of the Trust. Officers were elected and delegates were selected to attend the State meeting, at Greenville, April 13-14.

Year after year the effort has been made to combat this hideous monster that reaps the usufruct of the farmers' industry. We hope the effort now in process of formation will be more successful. The tobacco growers of Bourbon should join in the movement at the earliest possible opportunity.

They are as follows: Will Howard, alias Will Huggy; Sid Stout and Cornelius Sleggrins, murder. Howard goes for life, Sleggrins for ten years, and Stout for five years. George Williams and Chas. It is a deserved compliment for duty well performed.

Huge Task.

It was a huge task to undertake the cure of such a bad case of kidney disease, as that of C. F. Collier, of Cherokee, Iowa, but Electric Bitters did it. He writes: "My kidneys were so far gone, I could not sit on a chair without a cushion; and suffered from dreadful backache, headache and depression. In Electric Bitters, however, I found a cure, and by them was restored to perfect health. I recommend this great tonic medicine to all with weak kidneys, liver or stomach." Dangers of Defective Plumbing!

Defective plumbing permits the entrance into the house of sewer gas bearing germs or contagious disease to which the human system readily succumbs. Sewer gas is not necessarily generated in the sewer, but is frequently created in the plumbing system within the home and enters the apartments through defective fixtures. If in doubt, consult us regarding the piping and repairing defective fixtures with "STANDARD" Porcelain Enameled Ware, acknowledged as the best sanitary equipment.

NATURAL GAS FOR PARIS.

In spite of our inactivity, in spite of our absolute disinterestedness, there are abundant evidences of a healthy and substantial growth of our city. This is frequently marvelled at, when we consider that no central organization exists to look after the things most needed to push the industrial and commercial interests of the town. With considerable enthusiasm we organized a business men's club, whose existence was short lived and its power for good without moment. Industrial enterprises that might be secured, commercial advantages that might be attained, and the construction of interurban roads leading to wealthy and populous sections, contiguous to our markets and marts of trade, and the advantages to be derived by securing natural gas which lies within easy reach of every door and fireside of our city, both for heating and lighting purposes, are passed by only to be secured by some neighboring city. Will we wake up? Will we become aroused to the importance of doing something for ourselves, something for our city? No wonder we groan at the rapid strides to metropolitan power and greatness that characterizes our neighboring cities. We profit not by their push and enterprise. What we need is cheap fuel and light. It can be had in the form of natural gas. We are only 15 miles distance from Winchester, which city is only forty miles from the inexhaustible gas fields of Menifee county. Already a pipe line runs from that point through Winchester to Lexington. Mt. Sterling, one mile from the main line is now connected, having all the advantages of cheap fuel and light, Winchester and Lexington are also enjoying these advantages. The company operating and controlling the lines, says they have nineteen wells with only three in use, the others being plugged up. The pressure per inch is eighty pounds, while the manufactured product of this city only shows a pressure of four ounces. The officials of the operating company are willing and anxious to extend their lines to Paris and have so informed several of our most prominent citizens. All they ask is a franchise from the city and county, and the assurance that our people will take advantage of the opportunity afforded to cheapen the cost of fuel and light in their homes and places of business. It means a saving of thousands of dollars per annum. We can get natural gas if we will but only put forward the proper effort. Will not some enterprising, progressive and public spirited citizen take up this matter and push it to a successful termination, to the end that we may keep pace with the progress of the age.

NEAR END OF LONG LIFE.

Uncle John Day, aged 103, said to be the oldest man in Eastern Kentucky, is critically ill at his old home on Big Cowan creek, in county, where he has resided for over three-quarters of a century. Hundreds of his descendants are around his bedside awaiting the end. He has been a life-long Republican, and at one time was a political leader of considerable note.

INDIGESTION'S RECORD

"The best remedy I can prescribe for your indigestion, madam, is Green's August Flower. I know of several other physicians who prescribe it regularly."

Indigestion is making an awful record as a cause of sudden deaths. It is beating heart-failure in its ghastly harvest. You read in the papers daily of apparently healthy and even robust men being suddenly attacked with acute indigestion after enjoying a hearty meal, and of their dying in many cases before a physician could be called in.

This should be a warning to you who suffer with regular or periodical attacks of indigestion. If these unfortunate victims of acute indigestion had taken a small dose of Green's August Flower before or after their meals they would not have fallen a prey to such sudden seizures. August Flower prevents indigestion by creating good digestion. It also regulates the liver, purifies the blood and tones up the entire system in a natural way. Two sizes, 25c and 75c. All druggists.

POULTRY NOTES.

Keep the fowls in good condition. Disinfectants are cheaper than disease.

There is no economy in wintering useless roosters. Better not try to raise fowls than neglect them.

All perches should be on the same level. The use of food is to sustain life and maintain wants and give condition of body.

The best way to feed corn meal or bran to poultry, is after scalding.

Bones, when ground, are the most valuable, being full of animal matter. Millet seed can often be used to good advantage in feeding very young chickens.

Scattering newly slacked lime in the poultry house will absorb moisture and dry the apartment.

Never build the nests high but have them so low that the hens can step in instead of jumping in.

It is useless to try to raise chicks in a brooder unless every attention is given to the uniformity of heat.

In nearly all cases it is best to put the early laid duck and turkey eggs under a hen for hatching.

Whether the nests are placed upon the ground or higher up, care should always be taken to keep them away from the roosts.

The gizzard is an everlasting grinding mill, called into action, it always reduces the grains as swallowed so that the crop is rarely, if ever distended.

Chicks hatched in an incubator are free from lice. This is, at least, one great advantage over hatching with old hens.

The sire for breeding should have a broad breast, broad back, to secure plumpness and compactness of flesh in the offspring.

Large flocks that are beyond the reach of reasonable attention and care instead of returning a profit will prove a loss.

Bran and oats ground together, then wet with sweet skim milk and thoroughly cooked and then crumbed fine, makes one of the very best foods for young chickens.

It is claimed that by cutting the bill of birds so that the points will not touch, the habit of feather pulling and egg eating can be broken up.

$100 REWARD, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Dying of Famine

is, in its torments, like dying of consumption. The progress of consumption, from the beginning to the very end, is a long torture, both to victim and friends. "When I had consumption in its first stage," writes Wm. Myers, of Cearfoss, Md., "after trying different medicines and a good doctor, in vain, I at last took Dr. King's New Discovery, which quickly and perfectly cured me. Prompt relief and sure cure for coughs, colds, sore throat, bronchitis, etc. Positively prevents pneumonia. Guaranteed at Oberdorfer's drug store. Price 50c and $1 a bottle. Trial bottle free.

Insure with W. O. Hinton. He has the right kind of insurance.

Throat Coughs

A tickling in the throat; hoarseness at times; a deep breath irritates it;—these are features of a throat cough. They're very deceptive and a cough mixture won't cure them. You want something that will heal the inflamed membranes, enrich the blood and tone up the system.

Scott's Emulsion

is just such a remedy. It has wonderful healing and nourishing power. Removes the cause of the cough and the whole system is given new strength and vigor.

USES FOR RHEUBARB.

Our first "fruit" of the garden is rhubarb. The majority of the people do not appreciate it at its full worth. Early in the season, a few stalks are used for pies, and the remainder allowed to go to waste, when it might be a common article of diet all the year round. For the spring and summer season, it can be made into a variety of pies and puddings, and for the winter season, it may be preserved in the form of jam, jelly, butter and canned, either alone, or in combination with other fruits. One of the objections given to the plentiful use of rhubarb is the amount of sugar called for to make it sweet enough; but it is worth the cost.

Rhubarb Pie—Line a pie tin with rich paste; mix half a cupful of nice white sugar and one heaping tablespoonful of flour together, and spread over the bottom of the crust; cut the tender stalks of rhubarb into small pieces without peeling, and fill into the crust; over this sprinkle a cupful of white sugar and put on the top crust. Bake in a slow oven, so the juice will not boil over. The rhubarb may be slightly stewed, sweetened, the grated rind and juice of a lemon added and the beaten yolks of two eggs stirred into it, baked in an under crust and a nice meringue spread over the top.

Serve hot or cold with sugar or cream, or nice sauce. While baking, it is essential that the steam should not escape, as this must cook the rhubarb.

Rhubarb should not be cooked in tin, as it is very acid. Agateware, porcelain-lined, or earthen ware should always be used.

Rhubarb Pudding—Butter well thin slices of stale bread; put a layer of finely cut rhubarb (not coked), in a baking dish, sprinkle lightly with sugar, cover with slices of bread (crumbs may be used), another layer of fruit, sugar and bread, until the dish is full, with a layer of bread crumbs on top. Pour over this one cupful of water, cover with a plate, and bake in the oven for half an hour.

A Trite Saying.

It is a trite saying that no man is stronger than his stomach. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery strengthens the stomach—puts it in shape to make pure, rich blood—helps the liver and kidneys to expel the poisons from the body and thus cures both liver and kidney troubles. If you take this natural blood purifier and tonic, you will assist your system in manufacturing each day a pint of rich, red blood, that is invigorating to the brain and nerves. The weak, nervous, run-down, debilitated condition which so many people suffer from, is usually the effect of poisons in the blood; it is often indicated by pimples or boils appearing on the skin, the face becomes thin and the feelings "blue." Dr. Pierce's "Discovery" cures all blood humors as well as being a tonic that makes one vigorous, strong and forceful. It is the only medicine put up for sale through druggists for like purposes that contains neither alcohol nor harmful habit-forming drugs, and the only one, every ingredient of which has the professional endorsement of the leading medical writers of this country. Some of these endorsements are published in a little book of extracts from standard medical works and will be sent to any address free, on receipt of request therefor by letter or postal card, addressed to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. It tells just what Dr. Pierce's medicines are made of. "The Words of Praise" for the several ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's medicines are composed, by leaders in all the several schools of medical practice, and recommending them for the cure of the diseases for which the "Golden Medical Discovery" is advised, should have far more weight with the sick and afflicted than any amount of the so-called "testimonials" so conspicuously flaunted before the public by those who are afraid to let the ingredients of which their medicines are composed be known. Bear in mind that the "Golden Medical Discovery" has the BADGE OF HONESTY on every bottle wrapper, in a full list of its ingredients.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation, invigorate the liver and regulate stomach and bowels.

Dr. Pierce's great thousand-page illustrated Common Sense Medical Adviser will be sent free, paper-bound, for 21 one-cent stamps, or cloth-bound for 31 stamps. Address Dr. Pierce as above.

A MUSICAL TREAT.

The ladies connected with the Hospital movement in this city have secured the Schubert Symphony Club and Lady Quartette of Chicago, for an entertainment on Friday evening, April the 20th, at the Opera House. The press speaks in the highest terms of this company where ever they have appeared, saying that their music is of a high order and the program which they render consists of delightful selections by the lady quartette, their mandolin and guitar club, artistic violin solos and comic and serious reading by their entertainer.

This should be the society event of the spring and be well patronized by our people.

PROF. SHARON RESIGNS.

It is with much regret that the many friends of Prof. J. A. Sharon learn that he will not be an applicant for Superintendent of the City Schools at the election on Saturday evening for the ensuing year. Prof. Sharon, Superintendent, Prof. J. S. Johnson, principal of the High School and Miss Jessie Brown, teacher in the Seventh Grade, we are informed, filed their resignations with the Board Wednesday evening. No man in Kentucky takes more interest in educational matters than Prof. Sharon, and he has taken great pride in placing the Paris City School up in the front ranks of public schools in our state. He has been Superintendent of the Paris schools for the past four years and has given universal satisfaction to not only the numerous patrons, but to the pupils, who are up in arms and protesting against his leaving.

If there are differences between Prof. Sharon and the Board we are not informed as to the nature of them, but we are among the host of friends and admirers of Prof. Sharon who regret exceedingly his determination to leave Paris. As an educator, gentleman and superintendent of schools we place him right at the head of the list. There is a petition in circulation asking the Board not to accept his resignation.

Mann, of the Methodist church officiating. The ceremony was witnessed by Miss Nancy Coulthard and Mrs. Sallie Mynes, of Paris, and Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Fritts, of Carlisle. MY BLUE GRASS LASSIE.

The following unpublished poem by John A. Boyden has been handed to the News for publication. We usually turn down contributions of this character but in this case wave all objections.
Mr. Boyden, who was a printer, and attended school at New Hope, this State, feels the impulse of a native Kentuckian in the composition of his poem. He is a member of the United States Marine Corps with headquarters at Boston, Mass. The poem has been set to music by Carl F. Miller.

Near the mist-covered mountains,
'mongst cool bubbling fountains, There's a modest log cabin where my heart longs to be.
There's a harvest rich-laden, and a pure bluegrass maiden,
Now watching the stars and thinking of me.
For a few months of pleasure, I left my fair treasure,
Now I long for the pure air of mount,
hill and glen;
And now I am speeding to the heart I left bleeding, Soon we stroll in the moonlight, be sweethearts again.

Chorus—
With the blue sky above me,
The blue grass beneath me,
Blue eyes to look into,
Nevermore I will roam.
Take me back to Kentucky,
My loved land Kentucky,
To my true blue grass lassie,
To my log-cabin home.

How sweet was the morning, the sun gently dawning,
As I stepped from the train to the path
I loved well.
Little birds sang a greeting to the true lovers meeting,
On the dew-moistened clover, our tears mingling fell.
O'er hill and through heather, we strolled off together,
And vowed o'er and o'er that never we'd part.
Then the autumn winds chilled her,
the winter's wind stilled her,
Now my poor faded lily lies dead in my heart.

2nd Chorus—
No blue sky above me,
No blue grass beneath me,
No blue eyes to look into,
Evermore I will roam.
Broken-hearted, unlucky,
Still I dream of Kentucky,
Of my true blue grass lassie,
Of our log cabin home.

HOME COMING.

As an evidence of the intense interest manifested by the great army of ex-Kentuckians scattered all over the great West, The News publishes the following letter that will be read with much interest:

Los Angeles, Cal., April 5, 1906.
Editor Bourbon News,

Paris, Ky.
Dear Sir:—I attended a meeting of the Kentucky Society of Los Angeles last Saturday evening and as it was very interesting to all present, I thought an account of it might be interesting to all.

The meeting was held in the Chamber of Commerce and was called for the purpose of further completing arrangements for the Home Going excursion.
The Kentuckians here are arranging a grand excursion back to their old homes. The arrangements are to arrive in Kentucky on June 1st. From present appearances there will be a large number on this excursion. The trains have already been chartered, which means at least 600 people, and the books are not yet closed. I think when they leave here they will be 1,000 strong.

I enjoyed the meeting very much, but as I have my fare paid back home the excursion proposition did not interest me. So, after shaking hands all around, I hooked up with Col. Flanders from Virginia, a gentleman from New York and a man from Ohio, and took in the sights. I want to say right here that the California people certainly know how to entertain, advertise and boom their country. They, of course, have a good many things here that are produced no where else, but they certainly work over time showing them.
I was very much interested in one fellow explaining the good points of California fruits, flowers, vegetables, poultry culture and live stock. I could't help but smile for I knew we had them beat a mile on everything except the fruit.
He explained one thing though that was new to me, and that was the Pacific Preserving Company's system of preserving eggs. By their system, eggs are kept nice and fresh for over a year and the cost is practically nothing. I got one of these receipts free and, any one can do the same by writing to that firm.

The Kentuckians are very much in evidence in this city. Every place I go I run into somebody I know and I feel as much at home here as I do back in our own State. The Kentucky Society of Los Angeles has a membership of over 2,500 and is still growing. They meet at least once a month and the glad hand of fellowship and good old Kentucky hospitality is extended to everybody.

Yours truly,

Z. T. BULLITT.

Sunland Bourbon's fee is lower than any stallion we know of.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

Washington, April 12th.—The decision of the Supreme Court in the Michigan tax case has further involved the question of rate legislation, but it has vindicated the position of the leading lawyers of the Senate who have maintained all along that the Hepburn bill, as formed, is unconstitutional. The decision was voiced by Justice Brewer, who said:

"In the nation no one of the three great departments can assume to be given the function of another, for the Constitution distinctly grants to the President, Congress and the judiciary, separately, the executive, legislative and judicial powers of the nation. It may, therefore, be conceded that an attempted delegation by Congress, to the President or any ministerial officer or board, of power to fix a rate of taxation or exercise other legislative functions would be judged unconstitutional."

Senators Knox and Spooner are investigating the ruling, and the Senate is anxiously awaiting the result of their inquiry. The immediate effects of the Supreme Court's dictum, however, has been to strengthen the belief of several Senators that the proposed rate legislation, as now drawn, shows a dangerous tendency to obstruct free access to the regularly constituted courts, and that it is class legislation, the deleterious effects of which would be felt in every phase of commercial life.

There is as much need for base ball in the Philippines as there is for the civilizing graces of education. This is the belief of the Bureau of Insular Affairs, which is striving to inculcate in the Filipino students in this country the necessity of their countrymen taking up the athletic sports of the Americans. The need of the average Filipino is said to be along physical rather than mental lines. For that reason the students now in this country are being encouraged to take active part in all college athletics and gymnasium work.

Ornithologists are wondering just what manner of birds are the pair that have made their nests in the tower of the Postoffice Department building. They seem to be hawks, but they are larger than this species, being almost as large as eagles. Their presence, in any event, has caused a big falling off in the pigeon population of the capital. The two big birds of prey find a glorious hunting ground just above the roofs of the downtown districts, and showers of pigeon feathers are frequently seen fluttering to the pavement of Pennsylvania avenue from the birds' aerie, indicating that they are feasting on their latest victim.

Twenty-five public school boys, classmates of Quentin Roosevelt, the youngest of the Roosevelt family, took possession of the White House one day this week, corralled the President, and dragged him into a riotous game of "blind man's buff" while the official callers wondered at the racket in the adjoining rooms and impatiently cooled their heels in the ante-chamber. The invasion was brought about by Quentin, who during recess scrawled on the blackboard an invitation to his classmates to spend the afternoon with him at the White House. The boys enthusiastically fell in with the plan, and under Quentin's guidance stormed and took the private wing of the Executive Mansion. The capture of the President quickly followed.

Segregation of employees is the latest reform instituted in the Government printing office by the new public printer, Charles A. Stillings. As a "reformer" Mr. Stillings has proved himself beyond compare. His order compelling employees to stand at "s'lute" when he passes by scarcely had ceased to attract public attention, when he promulgated his order forbidding men and women to mingle in the elevators during certain hours of the day. Male and female employees hereafter will be yanked up and down from their employment on elevators kept inviolate to the use of each sex. Woe betide the man who ventures to invade the sanctity of the "female" elevator, and as for the luckless woman who dares intrude within the tobacco-scented portals of the "male" lift, the weight of the Stillings' displeasure will fall upon her.

If the recommendation of W. S. Rossiter, chief clerk of the Census Bureau, is adopted, a leak of something like $45,000 in the printing office will be stopped. In 1904 the public printer used 40,000,000 square inches of gold leaf in lettering publications issued by that office. The cost was $48,262. The Census Bureau publications were lettered at a cost of $80, aluminum being used instead of gold by the public printer the total cost would have been $2,121, instead of upward of $48,000. Mr. Rossiter declares the aluminum lettering is as durable and as handsome as gold.

There was a muffled explosion followed quickly by the crash of breaking glass and a wild stampede of dignified Representatives in the House cloakroom one day this week. Visions of a dynamite plot drove the crowd into a stampede, and all would have escaped if three of the heavy-weight members had not become tightly wedged in the door. This gave the cloakroom attendants time to ascertain that the explosion had been caused by the bursting of a carboy of mineral water, highly charged, which had been placed too close to a storm pipe. When the Senate learned of the excitement at the other end of the Capitol none of the Senators expressed surprise.

"It's to be expected of the average Representative," was the universal verdict. "Get a bunch of them together and they'll stampee on anything, including legislation.

When W. G. Smith, president of the National Association of Railway Commissioners, in his annual address this week before the convention of the organization, declared he feared the wisdom of granting to the Interstate Commerce Commission, or any other political body, the power to fix rates, he created a genuine excitement. Mr. Smith, whose home is in Sturgis, South Dakota, declared the country was too vast for any hard and fast rule of procedure, and declared the Middle West would be better served if this questionable power were withheld and a greater effort made to wipe out transportation rebates, unjust discriminations and other abuses. CAT ADOPTS RAT TERRIER.

In the basement of the Indiana House in Cincinnati, in a snug box, is ensconced a happy family consisting of a Maltese cat with a litter of kittens, their eyes scarcely open, and a black and tan terrier puppy that is but a few days old. The kittens have not yet reached the age in which they would exhibit jealousy, and they and the puppy are mothered by the old cat, who bestows as much care on the canine part of the family as the feline.

While the kittens consent to be carried from the box to the middle of the basement in the mother's mouth for exercise, the rat terrier does not understand this method of travel, and fills the air with yelps and whines when his foster mother mother gravely picks him up in her teeth and walks away with him.

Mr. Geiss was somewhat loath to try the experiment of placing the puppy with the kittens when his son brought the little dog home, fearing that the big cat would pounce on the dog and kill it. Instead she received the addition to her family with every evidence of satisfaction, and commenced purring with a sound like the overhead trolleys of an electric car in rapid motion, and gave the little fellow a motherly welcome.

5,000 WITNESS BAPTIZING.

At Lexington Sunday, it is estimated, at least 5,000 people, white and colored, witnessed the negro baptizing at the State College pond, corner of South Limestone and Winslow streets.

A YOUNG MOTHER AT 70.

"My mother has certainly been made young at 70. Twenty years of intense suffering from dyspepsia had entirely disabled her, until six months ago, when she began taking Electric Bitters, which have completely cured her and restored the strength and activity she had in the prime of life," writes Mrs. W. L. Gilpatrick, of Danforth, Me. Greatest restoration medicine on the globe. Sets stomach, liver and kidneys right, purifies the blood and cures malaria, biliousness and weaknesses. In the Full Light of Springtime This Stands, Every Counter, Every Case, Every Nook and Corner Filled With Exquisite New Garments.

The thought and effort of our buyers has, for months past, been expended without stint, that the occasion of our Spring Opening, the showing of all that is best in the whole textile world, should eclipse all others known to our customers.

The result of our painstaking care is here—such beautiful wearing apparel for women, the latest Parisian creations in Jackets, Suits, Dress Skirts, and Walking Skirts, and the trimmest and the neatest of the chic Silk Shirt Waist Suits and Shirt Waist.

And a glory of Silks—all the beauty and radiance of the Spring's brightest and most bewitching weaves and colorings. Such dress goods, wash fabrics—you can't get better in New York, Boston or Philadelphia.

Gloves and Neckwear—a woman's most exacting point on selecting apparel, but we can satisfy the most fastidious. The lowest possible prices on the best knit and muslin underwear—and hosiery, for woman or child, at figures it is impossible to equal anywhere.

No matter where your eyes rest when you are here, they will be greeted with the sight of something fresh and new, something that will appeal to your sense of the beautiful, something you wish to possess.

THE FAIR

The Fair The Fair

Standrds that Never Waver.

The Fair's business standards never waver. Year in and year out we stick doggedly to the principle of an honest value at an honest price. Handling, as we do, thousands of small articles, we have to be eternally vigilant on the score of quality and goodness. We have to study hard and work hard to get the right things in and keep the wrong things out. But to the care and pains with which this is done we attribute no small part of our success. It is easy enough to sell at low prices if you sell trashy, good-for-nothing things. But 'tis a very different achievement to sell good and worthy things at the low prices we constantly quote.

Replenishing Time In Tableware.

This is the time of the year when wousewives are most apt to replenish their stock of Tableware. When Spring cleaning is on, and closets and China cupboards undergo thorough inspection, one is apt to find quite a good many tableware needs that otherwise would have escaped notice. For dishes will break and crack, even in the best regulated households. Come to The Fair and every gap in your table service can be filled most highly to your satisfaction in every particular. The variety of choice in China and Glassware of every kind was never better the patterns and styles are all of the kind that tasteful women will command; and certainly no one could find fault with the prices.
